Pure Crete is an independent company which for over 30 years has provided holidays from April to October in villas, houses & farms in Cretan villages, set in the foothills of the White Mountains overlooking the sea. Many have been restored from dereliction by Pure Crete in co-operation with local families using traditional building methods. Therefore, your stay contributes to the livelihood of the local community and supports the local culture. We have also supported the protection of endangered species in Crete. So, through our service we help to ensure that the natural and physical environment benefits from your custom.

Our Service

We provide accommodation for rental on a weekly basis at a per person price inclusive of air fare or accommodation only as required. We also provide car hire. Our accommodation is well equipped, in excellent condition and the price includes a twice weekly maid service and a twice weekly linen change. Our team at Pure Crete has an in-depth knowledge of each of our properties to help you to make the best choice for your stay.

With your tickets, you will be sent the Pure Crete Information Booklet which gives detailed local information to help you to make the most of your time in Crete. This is in addition to the house book in Crete which provides local advice and suggestions.

A local representative will visit you the day after you arrive and will be available at other times to give you any help and advice you may need. If you have very young children we can arrange cots and usually babysitting.

All of our representative team live permanently in Crete and so have an intimate knowledge of the area. This is a key part of Pure Crete as our commitment to help to sustain and enhance the local culture and environment is built upon close relationships and co-operation with the local communities.

This is all thanks to people like you who come to enjoy a rich and varied holiday in Crete. Many return to enjoy the food, wine and hospitality and the empty beaches and warm sunshine from April to November. Others come back to appreciate the historic and archaeological treasures of Crete or the natural environment of flowers, mountains, gorges and coastline or simply to relax in the comfort of your own Cretan house. Whatever your passion, we’re here to make your holiday an experience you’ll want to repeat and recommend as many of you have on our website. And it’s always a special pleasure to welcome friends and family of existing customers to Crete.

At Pure Crete we take the environment seriously. For over 30 years we have specialised in providing holidays to traditional village houses and villas within Western Crete. We have sponsored a loggerhead turtle hatchery and supported the preservation of the Cretan Bearded Vulture – the Lammergeier – and helped to promote a donkey sanctuary. We have offered our clients the option to carbon-offset their flight by contributing to Beyond Carbon, and by doing so have raised tens of thousands of pounds for the Sun Fire Solar Solutions project in Africa which provides solar and fuel-efficient stoves to poor communities. See www.purecrete.com/sustainable-tourism. We have most recently established the Pure Crete Aptera Cat Scheme for our clients in Crete to support the welfare of local cats. We also provide guests with information on other local animal welfare charities they may wish to donate to.

We take your financial protection seriously. Our Civil Aviation Authority ATOL licence 2757 means that your flight payments are protected. Your ATOL certificate will be issued upon receipt of payment. Our membership of the Association of Independent Tour Operators means your accommodation costs have Total Payment Protection Policy Cover and our registration as an independent UK company means you are protected by UK package holiday regulations 1992. Non UK registered or non ATOL holiday organisations offering flights or accommodation put you at risk of losing your holiday or being stranded abroad without recourse.

We have helped to restore locally owned village houses and villas, many from dereliction, with the support of local people. This means that the impact of our holidays has been to help to improve the natural and physical environment where you stay and that the economic benefits are spread across communities. We also support recycling and solar panels in the houses we rent. Pure Crete has been awarded Four Star Status for Sustainable Tourism by AITO.
In search of the Cretan tulip
Anna Pavord had a mission to find a tulip unique to the island of Crete.

It took more than an hour, but I got to the snow. I also caught up with the rump of one of Pure Crete’s specialist groups, on a week’s wildlife and photography tour, led by Stephen Waters, a botanist and Clive Daws, an ecologist. We found crocus in the melting snow and, even higher, flat rock-hugging mats of an alpine anchusa, the flowers dazzling blue among the leaves.

At the top, I threw a snowball at an eagle before beginning a rapid descent. And there, in an area mercifully fenced off from grazing animals, we had found the tulips. Hundreds of them. They were growing in thin, poor grassland on some abandoned terraces. Their shiny leaves poked out from sheaves of anemones, with orchids thrown in for good measure. There were also some stunning flowers: pale green and black, which I thought were dwarf iris, but which turned out to be Hermodactylus tuberosus.

For an hour or more we wandered among the flowers, leapfrogging from one small bare patch of earth to the next. There was nothing I could find to say. This was the first time I had seen tulips growing in the wild. I knew how Galahad must have felt when he finally caught up with the Grail.
Crete in Bloom

Country Walking in Crete 2019

A week starting 30 April or 8 October 2019

2019’s Country Walking holiday week comprises five days of leisurely-paced walks of about 6 - 7 miles taking in the hills and the valleys of Western Crete as well as traditional villages and quiet ancient sites which are particularly beautiful in the Spring and Autumn with the abundance of wild flowers and plants.

The walks are easy to moderate and suitable for all ramblers. You will not be climbing mountains but will be exploring Crete’s open countryside, hills and villages with the experienced leadership of tour guide Tony Taylor. 2019 walks include Kato Poros Gorge and Ancient Lappa, Vafes, Tsitsifies, Sirikari Gorge and the Imbros Gorge. Each walk of 3 to 4 hours and 6-7 miles including steady and occasional short steep ascents/descents has regular rest stops and ends in the early afternoon in a village giving walkers the option of eating in a taverna, before being driven back to Aptera. Meals are not included in the cost of the holiday (except for the first day evening meal). Walking boots are recommended (or at least strong comfortable walking shoes/trainers).

The tour is suitable for single travellers as well as couples and small groups. Spaces are limited to 14 so early booking is advised. The per person price of £985 in April & £960 in October includes your flight and a week of Pure Crete accommodation (based on a category B house) in Aptera. Transfers included.
The principal town of the area is Chania, a Venetian port whose attractive and lively harbour provides the perfect setting for an evening stroll before dinner at one of the many waterfront tavernas. Behind the harbour a maze of narrow back streets links a mixture of old Venetian and Turkish houses often stunningly decorated with hanging flowers. Five minutes walk away is Chania’s covered market, well known for the wide variety of fresh produce on offer. Nearby, local handicraft shops provide a good place to find handmade leather goods, rugs and lace.

Aptera
(MEGALA CHORAFIA)

7 1/2 miles along the coast from Chania, the road winds gently up to Aptera (formerly Megala Chorafia), a Cretan village set in the foothills of the White Mountains.

The village’s hilltop setting makes for breathtaking panoramic views, over Souda Bay to the North and of the White Mountains, rising over 7,000ft, to the South.

Megala Chorafia, which literally means “Big Fields”, is a scatter of houses and farms with an ornate orthodox church as its centrepiece. The ‘Metoche’ area on the Eastern side is on a ridge which extends towards the ancient ruins of Aptera. Wild flowers bloom along narrow roads on which shepherds move their flocks between fields. There are three tavernas in the village, a cafeneion and a small ‘pantopoleion’ or minimarket. The archaeological remains of Aptera, dating from the Minoan and Roman times, are within walking distance of the village. Beyond these stands a Turkish castle, perched strategically on the headland overlooking the sea.

A daily bus service links the village to Chania, but we would strongly recommend car hire to enjoy your stay to the full.

Nearby sandy beaches include the blue beach, Kalami (2 1/2 miles), where a mountain river meets the sea to provide a refreshingly cool dip; Kalives (3 miles, photo page 16) whose beachside tavernas serve freshly caught fish. All are uncrowded. Further afield beach lovers will appreciate the 6 miles of white sand which stretches from Georgioupolis (15 miles) to Paradise Beach. Visit www.purecrete.com for more information.

THE INDEPENDENT

We ate every night at the tiny Taverna Aptera where the food was the best I have ever had in Greece. Not a sign of moussaka or souvlaki. Instead there was lamb with lettuce in an egg and lemon sauce, black-eyed beans with fennel, salt codfish in filo pastry.

“The Penthouse was much appreciated with its lovely view overlooking Souda Bay.” – John Black

CLASSIC FM

The village has settled down for the night and I have climbed onto the roof to find a warm breeze with a slight scent of the sea and wonderful, magic views in four directions. The fifth direction is upwards to a sky with more stars than I would have believed possible. The temptation to lie down here and count constellations and to gaze beyond the Milky Way into eternity is almost irresistible...

THE MAIL ON SUNDAY

There is nothing joyous about being woken up by a screeching cockerel at the crack of dawn. But in rural Crete you come to accept it, like the sea of bleating goats which block the mountain tracks every morning. The rustic charm of the island is epitomised in the village of Megala Chorafia near the Venetian port of Chania. With its cinematic backdrop of the White Mountains, the hamlet has a thriving community who farm the olive groves and vineyards. We stayed above a farmhouse, complete with donkey and goats, owned by the local Botonakis family; its balcony overlooking the deep blue bay of Souda was a haven of calm – despite the cockerel. The holiday was organised by Pure Crete Ltd.

Mrs C, Nottingham

“This was our 3rd holiday with you and we very much enjoyed our stay in Metoche. View of Souda Bay superb”

The Lady

We climbed to Aptera, a town dating from the fifth century BC with substantial ruins – Roman cisterns, a classical Greek theatre and temple. On the very edge of the hilltop was a crumbling Turkish fort. From here must be the most stunning views across the Bay of Souda and the Akrotiri peninsula, and to the fortified island at the mouth of the bay.

Legend has it that these islands were formed after a musical contest between the Muses and Sirens. Defeated, the Sirens plucked off their wings and flung themselves into the sea to become islands. Sally Bodsworth

THE AITO QUALITY CHARTER

AITO is the Association for independent and specialist holiday companies. Our member companies, usually owner-managed, strive to create overseas holidays with high levels of professionalism and a shared concern for quality and personal service. The Association encourages the highest standards in all aspects of tour operating.

- EXCLUSIVE MEMBERSHIP
  - AITO sets criteria regarding ownership, finance and quality which must be satisfied before new companies are admitted to membership. All members are required to adhere to a Code of Business Practice which encourages high operational standards and conduct.

- FINANCIAL SECURITY
  - An AITO member is required to arrange financial protection for all holidays and other arrangements (including accommodation only) booked by customers with the member under the AITO logo. This financial protection applies to customers who are resident in the UK at the time of booking and to most overseas customers who have booked directly with the member. In doing so, the member must comply with UK Government regulations. Members are required to submit details of their financial protection arrangements to AITO on a regular basis.

- ACCURATE BROCHURES AND WEBSITES
  - All members do their utmost to ensure that all their brochures and other publications, print or electronic, clearly and accurately describe the holidays and services offered.

- PROFESSIONAL SERVICE AND CONTINUAL IMPROVEMENTS
  - All members are committed to high standards of service and believe in regular and thorough training of employees. Members continually seek to review and improve their holidays. They listen to their customers and always welcome suggestions for improving standards.

- MONITORING STANDARDS
  - AITO endeavours to monitor quality standards regularly. All customers should receive a post-holiday questionnaire from their tour operator, the results of which are scrutinised by the Association.
  - In addition, customers can leave detailed feedback, accessible from the homepage of this website, or via a direct link supplied by their AITO tour operator, about their holiday.

- SUSTAINABLE TOURISM
  - Our members acknowledge the importance of AITOs Sustainable Tourism ethos, which recognises the social, economic and environmental responsibilities of tour operating.

- CUSTOMER RELATIONS
  - All members endeavour to deal swiftly and fairly with any issues their customers may raise. In the unlikely event that a dispute between an AITO member and a customer cannot be settled amicably, AITO’s low-cost Independent Dispute Settlement Service may be called upon by either side to bring the matter to a speedy and acceptable conclusion.

Over in the west, in the rolling, rural foothills between the ancient port of Chania and the glorious White Mountains, is a Crete that seems frozen in time, along with its unpretentious tavernas, its farming villages, its gorgeous orange groves, its twisting mountain roads, and its secret gorges. To be a tourist here almost seems a crime; you feel that you might somehow dislodge the delicate workings of a society that gives off an aura of absolute tranquillity.

But if you are going to be a tourist, do what we did. Rent a marvellous old farmhouse. We went to an Anglo-Cretan company, Pure Crete, that specialises in using local craftsmen and materials to restore old properties. Our walls were a yard thick; great stone slabs paved the floor; archways and huge urns proclaimed our Cretan surroundings as clearly as the words that drifted up from the people harvesting avocados just below us.
